(5) Subject to subsection (6), the Registrar shall not register a trade mark if, or to the extent that, its use in the Virgin Islands is liable to be prevented by virtue of

(a) any rule of law (in particular, the law of passing off) protecting an unregistered trade mark or other sign used in the course of trade or business; or

(2) The division of an application under subsection (1) shall preserve the filing date of the initial application and the benefit of the right of priority, if any.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) apply with respect to a division of a registration the same way as it applies in relation to an application, during any opposition proceedings or appeal concerning the validity of the registration.

Priority of Applications

Priority of applications in respect of identical or similar trade marks.

42. (1) Where different persons apply for the registration of trade marks that

(2) Where the application for registration under this Act is made within the six-month period referred to in subsection (1),

(a) the relevant date for the purposes of establishing which rights take precedence shall be the date of filing of the first Convention application or WTO application, as the case may be; and

(b) the registrability of the trade mark shall not be affected by any use of the mark in the Virgin Islands in the period between that date and the date of the application for registration under this Act.

(3) Any filing of an application for registration of a trade mark in, or in respect of, a Paris Convention country or WTO member which, under the laws of that country or member or under any bilateral or international agreement to which it is a party, is equivalent to a regular national filing, shall be treated as giving rise to a right of priority.

(4) A subsequent application for registration of a trade mark that was the subject of a previous application and that is filed in a Paris Convention country or WTO member, shall be considered as the first application for the purpose of determining priority if, on the date of filing of the subsequent application,

(a) the previous application has been withdrawn, abandoned or refused, without having been laid open to public inspection and without leaving any rights outstanding; and

(b) it has not yet served as a basis for claiming a right of priority.

(5) The previous application referred to in subsection (4) may not thereafter serve as a basis for claiming a right of priority.

(6) The rules may provide the manner of claiming a right to priority on the basis of a Convention application or WTO application, as the case may be.

(7) A right to priority that arises as a result of a Convention application or WTO application, as the case may be, may be assigned or otherwise transmitted, either with the application or independently, and the reference in subsection (1) to the person's "successor in title" shall be construed accordingly.

(8) The reference in subsection (3) to "a regular national filing" means a filing of an application for registration of a trade mark in a Paris Convention country or WTO member that establishes the date on which the application was filed, whatever the outcome of the application may be.

Obligation to inform applicants without priority.

44. The Registrar shall

- (a) notify an applicant of his order of priority where the applicant's application does not have
 - (i) priority over all other applications under section 42 (1) or 43; or
 - (ii) have equal priority under section 42 (2); and
- (b) determine, according to its order of priority, each application.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2) (b), (c) and (d), the Registrar shall specify such period as he considers appropriate, being not less than fourteen days and not more than sixty days from the date of the notice, within which the applicant must meet the outstanding requirements.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (3), where it appears reasonable to the Registrar that the applicant should be given a period greater than sixty days to meet the outstanding requirements, he may, upon application of the applicant, grant the applicant an extension of time for such additional period not exceeding sixty days as the Registrar considers appropriate in all the circumstances.

Abandonment of application.

47. (1) Where in respect of an application for the registration of a trade mark, the applicant

- (a) fails to respond to the notice within the period specified pursuant to section 46 (3) or, if an extension had been granted pursuant to section 46 (4), within the period of the extension, or
- (b) fails, before the end of the period referred to in paragraph (a), to satisfy the Registrar that the outstanding requirements for registration are met or to amend the application so as to meet those requirements, the application shall, subject to subsection (2), be treated as abandoned and the Registrar shall refuse to accept the application for registration of the trade mark.

(2) The Registrar shall not treat an application as abandoned under subsection (1) if the application is awaiting the outcome of

- (a) opposition proceedings in respect of a prior application; or
- (b) cancellation, revocation or invalidity proceedings in respect of a prior application, and therefore in either case any period specified in section 46 (3) or (4) shall be subject to the outcome of those proceedings.

(3) The Registrar shall notify the applicant of any decision made by him under subsection (1).

Publication of application. 48. Where the Registrar accepts an application for registration of a trade mark under section 46 (1), he shall cause the application to be published in the Gazette.

Withdrawal and amendment of application. 49. (1) An applicant for registration of a trade mark may at any time

- (a) withdraw the application or restrict the goods or services covered by the application; or
- (b) request the Registrar in writing to amend the application by correcting
 - (i) the name or address of the applicant;
 - (ii) an obvious mistake; or
 - (iii) an error or omission if, in the opinion of the Registrar, the correction of the error or omission does not materially alter the meaning or scope of the application.

(2) Where the application has been published pursuant to section 48, the withdrawal or alteration shall also be published in the manner prescribed in that section.

(3) The rules shall provide for

- (a) the publication of particulars of any amendment which affects the representation of the trade mark, or the goods or services covered by the application; and
- (b) the making of objections by any person claiming to be affected by the amendment.

Power to rescind an application. 50. (1) The Registrar may rescind the acceptance by him of an application under section 46 (1) before the trade mark to which the application relates is registered, if he is satisfied

- (a) that, having regard to matters coming to his notice since he accepted the application, the application was accepted in error; or
- (b) another application that relates to the trade mark concerned has priority under this Act.

- (2) Where the Registrar rescinds an application under subsection (1),
 - (a) the application shall be treated as if it had not been accepted;
 - (b) the Registrar shall notify the applicant of the fact of the rescission and the reason therefor; and
 - (c) sections 45 to 49 apply afresh in relation to the application.

Opposition to an Application

Notice of opposition.

51. (1) Where the Registrar publishes an application under section 48, any person with interest may, within the prescribed period from the date of publication of the application, give notice to the Registrar in the prescribed form indicating his opposition to the registration of the trade mark to which the application relates.

(2) A notice of opposition under subsection (1) shall include a statement of the grounds of opposition, and no notice of opposition shall be considered by the Registrar if it fails to state the grounds of the opposition.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), a person may be considered to have interest in an application for the registration of a trade mark if he

- (a) claims to be the owner of the trade mark;
- (b) is the holder of a licence in respect of the trade mark;
- (c) establishes some connection with the trade mark as convinces the Registrar that he has a legitimate interest to protect;
- (d) is the owner or a licensee of a prior trade mark which is identical or similar to the trade mark that is the subject of the application and any registration of the latter trade mark is likely to confuse or mislead the public;
- (e) claims that the registration of the trade mark will not be in the public interest and provides the reason for that claim which the Registrar accepts as reasonable;
- (f) establishes that the registration of the trade mark will violate a provision of this Act or any rule, regulation or Order made thereunder;
or
- (g) establishes any other reason that is prescribed.

Observations in relation to an application.

52. (1) Where an application has been published under section 48, any person may, at any time before the trade mark to which the application relates is registered, make observations in writing addressed to the Registrar as to whether the trade mark should be registered.

(2) The Registrar shall inform the applicant of any observations received by the Registrar under subsection (1).

(3) A person who makes observations under subsection (1) does not, as a result of making those observations, become a party to any proceedings in respect of the application.

Applicant's opportunity to respond to opposition.

53. (1) Where the Registrar receives a notice of opposition under section 51 (1) which includes a statement of the grounds of opposition, he shall transmit a copy of the notice of opposition to the applicant inviting the applicant to provide, within such period as the Registrar shall specify, a counter-statement of the grounds on which the applicant relies for his application.

(2) If the applicant fails to provide a counter-statement to the Registrar within the period specified by the Registrar, the applicant shall be deemed to have abandoned his application.

(3) Where the applicant submits a counter-statement to the Registrar within the period specified by the Registrar, the Registrar shall send a copy of the counter-statement to the person who gave notice of opposition.

(4) The period to be specified by the Registrar for the purposes of subsection (1) shall be not less than twenty-one days and not more than sixty days from the date a copy of the notice of opposition is transmitted to the applicant.

(5) Notwithstanding subsection (4), where it appears reasonable to the Registrar that the applicant should be given a period greater than sixty days to provide a counter-statement of the grounds on which the applicant relies for his application, the Registrar may, upon application of the applicant, grant the applicant an extension of time for an additional period not exceeding thirty days as the Registrar considers appropriate in all the circumstances.

Determination of opposition.

54. (1) Where the Registrar receives a notice of opposition and a counter-statement, he

(a) may rely on the notice of opposition and the applicant's counter-statement, including the application, to make his decision; or

(b) may give the parties the opportunity to make oral presentations before him and consider the evidence presented to him; and

(c) shall determine whether, and subject to what conditions (if any), the trade mark is to be registered.

(2) A person who gives a notice of opposition may at any time before the determination of the opposition by the Registrar withdraw in the prescribed form his opposition to the application.

PART IV

REGISTRATION OF TRADE MARKS

Registration, Duration, Renewal and Alteration of a Trade Mark

Duty to register trade mark. 55. (1) Where an application has been accepted by the Registrar under section 46 (1) and

- (a) the disabilities outlined in sections 47 (2) and 50 (1) do not apply,
- (b) no notice of opposition is given within the prescribed period referred to in section 51 (1),
- (c) all opposition proceedings, if any, are withdrawn or decided in favour of the applicant under section 54, and
- (d) the required fees for registration have been paid, the Registrar shall register the trade mark by entering the prescribed particulars in the register, unless section 50 (1) applies.

(2) The Registrar shall, upon registration of a trade mark under subsection (1),

- (a) issue to the applicant a certificate of registration in the prescribed form; and
- (b) cause to be published in the Gazette a notice indicating the registration of the trade mark.

Issuing a duplicate certificate of registration. 56. (1) The Registrar may issue a duplicate certificate of registration if

- (a) he receives an application for that purpose in the prescribed form;
- (b) the prescribed fee has been paid; and
- (c) he is satisfied that the certificate of registration in respect of which a duplicate certificate of registration is being requested has been lost or destroyed or in any other case in which he thinks it is expedient to do so.

(2) A duplicate certificate of registration issued by the Registrar shall have the same effect as the certificate of registration that was originally issued by him.

Date of registration.

57. A trade mark shall be registered as of the date of filing of the application for registration and that date shall be deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to be the date of registration of the trade mark.

Duration of registration.

58. A trade mark shall be registered for a period of ten years from the date of registration and may be renewed for further periods of ten years in accordance with section 59.

Renewal of registration.

59. (1) The owner of a registered trade mark may request the renewal of registration of the trade mark which shall

(a) be made in such form as may be prescribed; and

(b) be subject to the payment of renewal fees as may be prescribed.

(2) Where the Registrar receives a request which complies with subsection (1), he shall renew the registration of a trade mark which shall take effect from the date of expiry of the previous registration.

(3) Where, at least one month prior to the expiry of a registered trade mark, the owner of the trade mark has not made a request under subsection (1), the Registrar may, in the prescribed manner, send to the owner of the trade mark a notice outlining

(a) the date on which the registration of the trade mark will expire;

(b) the requirement for payment of renewal fees; and

(c) that the registration of the trade mark will be removed from the register at the expiry of the period of ten years unless renewed.

(4) If the registration of a trade mark is not renewed in accordance with subsection (2), the Registrar shall, without prejudice to subsection (5), remove the trade mark from the register.

(5) The rules may make provision for the restoration of the registration of a trade mark that has been removed from the register under subsection (4), subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

- (6) A failure by the Registrar to send a notice under subsection (3) shall not
 - (a) make the Registrar or the Commission liable to any act or omission of the owner of the registered trade mark or his licensee or registered trade mark agent;
 - (b) prohibit the Registrar from acting in accordance with subsection (4); or
 - (c) limit the liability of the registered trade mark owner to any obligation under this Act or the rules or regulations or any Order made under this Act.

(7) The Registrar shall cause the renewal or restoration of the registration of a trade mark to be published in the Gazette.

Alteration of registered trade mark.

60. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the Registrar shall not, during the period of registration or on renewal of registration, alter a registered trade mark.

(2) The Registrar may, at the request of an owner of a registered trade mark which contains or consists of the name or address of the owner or any previous owner, alter that name or address but only to the extent that the alteration does not substantially affect the identity of the trade mark.

- (3) The rules may make provision with regard to
 - (a) the effect of an alteration made under subsection (2);
 - (b) the publication of the particulars of an alteration in the Gazette; and
 - (c) the making of objections by any person claiming to be affected by the alteration.

Variation, Division, Merger, Cancellation, etc. of Registered Trade Mark

Variation or cancellation of registration.

61. (1) Any person may make an application to the Registrar or the Court for the variation or cancellation of the registration of a trade mark.

(2) The registration of a trade mark may, subject to section 62, be varied or cancelled only on the ground that there has been a contravention of, or a failure to observe, any condition entered in the register in relation to the trade mark.

Cancellation by trade mark owner.

62. (1) The owner of a registered trade mark may apply to the Registrar in the prescribed form for the registration of his trade mark to be cancelled, and the Registrar shall, subject to subsection (3), cancel the registration.

(2) An application under subsection (1) may relate to some or all of the goods or services for which the trade mark is registered.

(3) The Registrar shall not cancel the registration of a trade mark under subsection (1), unless the certificate of registration in respect of the trade mark has been surrendered to the Registrar.

(4) The rules may provide for the protection of the interests of other persons who have a right in the trade mark.

Variation or cancellation of registration of certification
trade mark.

63. (1) The Registrar may, either on his own motion or on the application of an aggrieved person, vary or cancel an entry in the register that relates to a certification trade mark on the ground that

- (a) the owner is no longer competent to certify any goods or services in respect of which the certification trade mark is registered;
- (b) the owner has not complied with a condition of the certification trade mark;
- (c) it is not in the public interest for the certification trade mark to continue to be registered; or
- (d) it is in the public interest that the certification trade mark be varied.

(2) The Registrar shall not make any variation or cancellation under subsection (1) unless he has given the owner of the certification trade mark at least thirty days notice

- (a) indicating the Registrar's intention to vary or cancel the entry in the register;
- (b) indicating the ground on which the Registrar relies for his decision; and
- (c) giving the owner the opportunity to make representation to the Registrar as to why the Registrar should not carry out his intended decision.

(3) Where the Registrar takes a decision under subsection (1), he shall inform the owner of the certification trade mark and, where the decision was taken pursuant to an application by an aggrieved person, inform that person as well, of his decision and the reason for the decision.

Variation or cancellation of
registration of collective trade
mark.

64. (1) The Registrar may, either on his own motion or on the application of an aggrieved person, vary or cancel an entry in the register that relates to a collective trade mark on the ground that

- (a) the collective association concerned is an unlawful association by virtue of any enactment;
- (b) the collective association has ceased to exist;
- (c) it is not in the public interest for the collective trade mark to continue to be registered; or
- (d) it is in the public interest that the collective trade mark be varied.

(2) The Registrar shall not make any variation or cancellation under subsection (1) unless he has given the owner of the collective trade mark at least thirty days notice

- (a) indicating the Registrar's intention to vary or cancel the entry in the register;
- (b) indicating the ground on which the Registrar relies for his decision; and
- (c) giving the owner the opportunity to make representation to the Registrar as to why the Registrar should not carry out his intended decision.

(2) Where the Registrar takes a decision under subsection (1) (a), (c) or (d), he shall inform the owner of the collective trade mark of his decision and the reason for the decision and, where the decision was taken pursuant to an application by an aggrieved person, inform that person as well, of his decision and the reason for the decision.

Opinion of the Commission to be sought.

65. The Registrar shall not take a decision under section 63 (1) (c) or (d) or section 64(c) or (d) unless he first seeks the opinion of the Commission and he shall be guided by that opinion in making his determination.

Division, merger
and registration of series of
trade mark.

66. (1) The rules may make provision for

- (a) the division of an application for the registration of a trade mark into several applications with equal protection under this Act;
- (b) the merging of separate applications for registration of a trade mark with equal protection under this Act;

- (c) the merging of separate registrations with equal protection under this Act; and
 - (d) the registration of a series of trade marks.
- (2) The rules made under subsection (1) may include provision with regard to
- (a) the circumstances in which, and conditions subject to which, the division of an application for registration, the merging of separate applications or registrations, or the registration of a series of trade marks, is permitted;
 - (b) the effect of a division of an application for registration of a merger of separate applications or registrations; and
 - (c) the purposes for which an application for the registration of a trade mark is to be treated as a single application and those for which it is to be treated as a number of separate applications.

Revocation and Invalidity

Revocation of registration.

67. (1) A person who is aggrieved may make an application either to the Registrar or the Court for the revocation of registration of a trade mark.

(2) The Registrar or the Court may revoke the registration of a trade mark on the ground that

- (a) the trade mark has not, since its registration, been put to genuine use by the owner or by another with his consent, in relation to the goods or services for which it is registered, for a continuous period of at least three years, and there is no valid reason for non-use;
- (b) the trade mark consists of a sign that, in consequence of the acts or inactivity of the owner,
 - (i) has become the common name in the trade for goods or services for which the trade mark is registered; or
 - (ii) has become generally accepted within the trade as the sign that describes goods or services for which the trade mark is registered;
- (c) in consequence of the use made of it by the owner or by another with his consent, in relation to the goods or services for which it is registered, the trade mark is liable to mislead the public, particularly as to the nature, quality or geographical origin of those goods or services; or

(d) there has been a contravention of, or a failure to observe, a condition entered in the register in relation to its registration.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), the registration of a trade mark shall not be revoked on the ground mentioned in subsection (2) (a) if

(a) the use described in that subsection is commenced or resumed after the expiry of the three-year period and before the application for revocation is made; or

(b) there are circumstances that have arisen independently of the will of the owner which constitute an obstacle to the use of the trade mark.

(4) A commencement or resumption of the use described in subsection (2) (a) after the expiry of the three-year period but within the period of three months before the making of the application for revocation shall be disregarded, unless preparation for the commencement or resumption began before the owner of the registered trade mark became aware that the application might be made.

(5) Where grounds for revocation exist in respect of only some of the goods or services for which the trade mark is registered, revocation shall relate to those goods or services only.

(6) Where the registration of a trade mark is revoked to any extent, the rights of the owner shall be deemed to have ceased to that extent as

(a) from the date of the application for revocation; or

(b) from, if the Registrar or the Court is satisfied that the grounds for revocation existed at an earlier date, that earlier date.

(7) For the purposes of

(a) subsection (2), use of a trade mark includes use in a form which differs in elements which do not alter the distinctive character of the trade mark in the form in which it was registered; and

(b) subsection (3) (b), the rules may provide the circumstances that are to be recognised as valid reasons for non-use of a trade mark.

Proof of use in opposition.

68. (1) A person who makes an application under section 67 (1) for the revocation of registration of a registered trade mark shall serve a notice of the application on the owner and, where there is a licensee, on the licensee as well.

(2) Where an owner or a licensee intends to oppose an application for the revocation of the registration of a trade mark under section 66 (2) (a) or (b), the owner or licensee, as the case may be, shall, within such period as may be prescribed,

(a) provide proof of the use of the trade mark if the grounds outlined in section 67 (2) (a) or (b) form the basis of the application; or

(b) raise and specify the circumstances that justify the non-use of the trade mark where section 67 (7) applies.

Declaration of invalidity.

69. (1) A person who is aggrieved may make an application either to the Registrar or the Court for a declaration of invalidity of the registration of a trade mark, save that if

(a) proceedings in respect of the trade mark are pending before the Court, the application shall be made to the Court; and

(b) in any other case the application is made to the Registrar, the Registrar may at any stage of the proceedings before him refer the application to the Court for determination.

(2) Where the Registrar forms the opinion that there has been a case of bad faith in the registration of a trade mark, he may make an application to the Court for a declaration of the invalidity of the registration.

(3) The registration of a trade mark may be declared invalid on the ground that the trade mark was registered in breach of section 15, 16 or 17.

(4) Where the trade mark was registered in contravention of section 15 (1), (b), (c) or (d), it shall not be declared invalid if, in consequence of the use which has been made of it, it has after registration acquired a distinctive character in relation to the goods or services for which it is registered.

(5) Subject to subsections (6) and (7), the registration of a trade mark may also be declared invalid on the ground that there

(a) is an earlier trade mark in relation to which the conditions outlined in section 24 (1), (2) or (3) apply; or

(b) is an earlier right in relation to which the condition outlined in section 24 (4) or (5) is satisfied.

(6) The registration of a trade mark may not be declared invalid under subsection (5) if the owner of the earlier trade mark or other earlier right has given his consent to the registration.

(7) Where a trade mark has been registered on the ground that there has been an honest concurrent use of the trade mark and the earlier trade mark or other earlier right as provided for under section 27, the registration of a trade mark may not be declared invalid under subsection (5) unless the Registrar or the Court, as the case may be, is satisfied that in fact there has been no honest concurrent use of the trade mark and the earlier trade mark or other earlier right.

(8) Where the grounds of invalidity exist in respect of only some of the goods or services for which the trade mark is registered, the trade mark shall be declared invalid only in respect of those goods or services.

Effect of declaration of invalidity.

70. Without prejudice to transactions past and closed, where the registration of a trade mark is declared invalid to any extent,

(a) the registration shall to that extent be deemed never to have been made; and

(b) the Registrar shall amend the register as appropriate.

Acquiescence in use of registered
trade mark.

71. (1) Subject to subsection (2), where the owner of an earlier trade mark or other earlier right has acquiesced for a continuous period of five years in the use of a registered trade mark in the Virgin Islands, being aware of that use, there shall cease to be any entitlement on the basis of that earlier trade mark or other right

(a) to apply for a declaration that the registration of the later trade mark is invalid; or

(b) to oppose the use of the later trade mark in relation to the goods or services in respect of which it has been so used.

(2) The disentitlement referred to in subsection (1) shall not apply where it is established that the later trade mark was applied for in bad faith.

(3) Where subsection (1) applies, the owner of the later trade mark is not entitled to oppose the use of the earlier trade mark or the exploitation of the earlier right, as the case may be, notwithstanding that the earlier trade mark or earlier right may no longer be invoked against his later trade mark.

Disclaimer of Use of a Trade Mark

- Voluntary disclaimer of part of trade mark. 72. The owner of a registered trade mark may disclaim any right to the exclusive use of any part of the trade mark.
- Disclaimer as condition of non-revocation. 73. Where the grounds outlined in section 67 (2) (b) exist, the Registrar or the Court, as the case may be, may, as a condition of the registration of a trade mark not being revoked and where considered feasible, require the owner of the trade mark to disclaim any right to the exclusive use of a word or other item in relation to any goods or services.
- Disclaimer on public interest grounds. 74. (1) Where, in determining whether a trade mark is to be registered or is to remain on the register, the Registrar or the Court forms the view that there are public interest reasons for doing so, the Registrar or the Court, as the case may be, may require, as a condition of the trade mark being on the register, that the owner
- (a) disclaims any right to the exclusive use of any part of the trade mark; or
 - (b) makes any other disclaimer considered necessary for the purpose of defining the owner's rights under the registration.
- (2) Any disclaimer made under this section, or section 72 or 73, shall affect only those rights of the owner of the trade mark that arise out of the registration of the trade mark in respect of which the trade mark is made.

Defensive Trade Marks

- Registration of defensive trade mark. 75. (1) Where a registered trade mark has been used so much in relation to all or any of the goods or services for which it has become exceptionally well-known in the Virgin Islands and, as a result, its use in relation to other goods or services would be likely to detract from its distinctive character with regard to the goods or services for which it has been so used, the trade mark may, on the application of the owner of the registered trade mark made to the Registrar, be registered as a defensive trade mark in respect of any or all of those goods or services.
- (2) A trade mark may be registered as a defensive trade mark in respect of particular goods or services even if
- (a) the owner of the registered trade mark does not use or intend to use the trade mark in relation to those goods or services; or

(b) the trade mark is already registered (otherwise than as a defensive trade mark) in the name of the applicant in respect of those goods or services.

(3) A trade mark that is registered as a defensive trade mark in respect of particular goods or services may be subsequently registered (otherwise than as a defensive trade mark) in the name of the owner of the registered trade mark in respect of the same goods or services.

(4) The Registrar shall refuse an application made under subsection (1) if

(a) the trade mark is not registered as such in the name of the applicant; or

(b) the extent to which the registered trade mark is being or has been used does not accord with the circumstances described in that subsection.

Revocation of registration of defensive trade mark.

76. (1) Any aggrieved person may apply to the Registrar or the Court for the revocation of the registration of a trade mark as a defensive trade mark on the ground that

(a) the trade mark is not otherwise registered in the name of the owner of the registered defensive trade mark; or

(b) the extent to which the registered trade mark is being or has been used does not accord with the circumstances described in section 73 (1).

(2) A revocation effected pursuant to subsection (1) may be in respect of all or any of the goods or services in relation to which the registered trade mark is registered as a defensive trade mark.

(3) Sections 36 (3) and 67 (2) (a), (b) and (c) and such other provisions of this Act as may be inconsistent with this section shall not apply in relation to defensive trade marks.

PART V

CO-OWNERSHIP, ASSIGNMENT AND LICENSING OF REGISTERED TRADE MARK

Co-ownership of Trade Mark

Entitlement as regards joint registration.

77. Where a registered trade mark is granted to two or more persons jointly, each of those persons is entitled, subject to any agreement to the contrary, to an equal undivided share in the registered trade mark.

Rights as between co-owners.

78. (1) This section applies where two or more persons are co-owners of a registered trade mark, whether by virtue of section 77 or otherwise.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and to any agreement to the contrary, each co-owner of a registered trade mark is entitled, by himself or his agents, to do for his own benefit and without the consent of or the need to account to any other co-owner, any act which would otherwise constitute an infringement of the registered trade mark.

(3) One co-owner may not, without the consent of each other co-owner,

(a) grant a licence to use the registered trade mark; or

(b) assign or charge his share in the registered trade mark.

(4) A co-owner of a registered trade mark may commence infringement proceedings, but he may not, without leave of the Court, proceed with the action unless each other co-owner is joined as a plaintiff or added as a defendant.

(5) A co-owner who is added as a defendant under subsection (4) shall not be liable for any costs in the infringement proceedings, unless he takes part in the proceedings.

(6) Nothing in this section or section 77 affects

(a) the granting of interlocutory relief on the application of a single co-owner or more than one co-owner; and

(b) the mutual rights and obligations of trustees or personal representatives, or their rights and obligations as such.

Assignment or Transmission

Registered trade mark transmissible by assignment, etc.

79. (1) A registered trade mark is transmissible by assignment, testamentary disposition or operation of law in the same way as other personal or moveable property.

(2) A registered trade mark is transmissible in the manner provided in subsection (1) either in connection with the goodwill of a business or independently.

(3) An assignment or other transmission of a registered trade mark may be partial and thus limited so as to apply in relation

(a) to some but not all of the goods or services for which the trade mark is registered; or

(b) to use of the trade mark in a particular manner or a particular locality.

(4) An assignment of a registered trade mark, or an assent relating to a registered trade mark, is not effective unless it is

(a) made in writing; and

(b) signed by or on behalf of the assignor or his personal representative.

(5) The requirement in subsection (4) may be satisfied, in a case where the assignor or personal representative is a body corporate, by the affixing of the seal of the corporate body.

(6) This section applies to an assignment by way of security as in relation to any other assignment.

Registered trade mark chargeable. 80. (1) A registered trade mark may be the subject of a charge in the same way as other personal or moveable property.

(2) Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as affecting the assignment or other transmission of an unregistered trade mark as part of the goodwill of a business.

Registrable transactions.

81. (1) Where the Registrar receives an application from

(a) a person claiming to be entitled to an interest in or under a registered trade mark by virtue of a registrable transaction, or

(b) any other person claiming to be affected by a registrable transaction, the Registrar shall enter in the register the prescribed particulars of the transaction.

(2) The following shall constitute registrable transactions:

(a) an assignment of a registered trade mark or any right in it;

(b) the grant of a licence under a registered trade mark;

(c) the granting of any security interest, whether fixed or floating, over a registered trade mark or any right in or under it;

(d) the making by a personal representative of an assent in relation to a registered trade mark or any right in or under it; and

(e) an order of a court, or any authority recognised by the Commission as a competent authority, transferring a registered trade mark or any right in or under it.

(3) Until an application has been made for registration of the prescribed particulars of a registrable transaction,

- (a) the transaction is ineffective as against a person acquiring a conflicting interest in or under the registered trade mark in ignorance of the transaction; and
- (b) a person claiming to be a licensee by virtue of the transaction does not have the protection provided in section 116, 117 or 118.

(4) Where a person becomes the owner or a licensee of a registered trade mark by virtue of a registrable transaction, then unless

- (a) an application for registration of the prescribed particulars of the transaction is made before the end of the period of six months from the date of the transaction, or
- (b) the Court is satisfied that it was not practicable for such an application to be made before the end of the six-month period and that an application was made as soon as practicable after the end of that period, he shall not be entitled to damages or an account of profits in respect of any infringement of the registered trade mark that occurs after the date of the transaction and before the prescribed particulars of the transaction are registered.

(5) The rules may make provision for

- (a) the amendment of registered particulars relating to a licence so as to reflect any alteration of the terms of the licence; and
- (b) the removal of particulars from the register
 - (i) where it appears from the registered particulars that the licence was granted for a fixed period which has expired; or
 - (ii) where no such fixed period is indicated and, after such period as may be prescribed, the Registrar has notified the parties of his intention to remove the particulars from the register.

(6) The rules may also make provision with respect to the amendment or removal from the register of particulars relating to a security interest upon the application, or with the consent, of the person entitled to the benefit of that interest.

Trusts and equities.

82. (1) No notice of any trust, whether express, implied or constructive, shall be entered in the register, and the register shall not be affected by any such notice.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Act, equities in respect of a registered trade mark may be enforced in like manner as in respect of other personal property.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt, nothing contained in this section prevents the registration of a trade mark, or the registration of particulars of a registrable transaction, in the name of a person as a trustee of a trust.

Registration of trade mark as object of property: application and references.

83. (1) Sections 79 to 82 apply, with necessary modification, in relation to an application for the registration of a trade mark as in relation to a registered trade mark.

(2) In sections 77 and 78 as they apply in relation to an application for registration, the reference in section 77 to the registration of a trade mark shall be construed as a reference to the making of the application.

(3) In section 81 as it applies in relation to a transaction affecting an application for the registration of a trade mark, the references to the entry of particulars in the register, and to the making of an application to register particulars, shall be construed as references to the giving of notice to the Registrar of those particulars.

Licensing of Registered Trade Mark

Definitions.

84. In this Part and Part VII, unless the context otherwise requires,

“exclusive licence” means a licence, whether general or limited, which authorises the licensee to the exclusion of all other persons, including the person that granted the licence, to use a registered trade mark in the manner authorised by the licence, and the expression “exclusive licensee” shall be construed accordingly; and

“licence” means a licence issued or held in accordance with the provisions of this Part, and “licensee” shall be construed accordingly; and

Nature and effect of a licence.

85. (1) A licence to use a registered trade mark may be general or limited.

(2) A limited licence may, in particular, apply in relation

(a) to some but not all of the goods or services for which the trade mark is registered; or

(b) to use of the trade mark in a particular manner or a particular locality.

(3) A licence issued under this Act is not effective unless it is in writing and signed by or on behalf of the person who grants it (“the grantor”).

(4) The requirement outlined in subsection (3) for the effectiveness of a licence may be satisfied, in a case where the grantor is a body corporate, by the affixing of the seal of the body corporate.

(5) Unless the licence provides otherwise, the licence is binding on a successor in title to the grantor's interest, and any reference in this Act to doing anything with, or without, the consent of the owner of a registered trade mark shall be construed accordingly.

(6) A licence may authorise a licensee to grant a sub-licence.

Scope of exclusive licence.

86. (1) An exclusive licence may provide that the exclusive licensee shall, to such extent as may be provided in the licence, have the same rights and be entitled to the same remedies in respect of matters occurring after the grant of the licence as if the licence had been an assignment.

(2) An exclusive licensee has the same rights against a successor in title who is bound by the licence as he has against the person granting the licence.

Application to register licensee.

87. (1) The Registrar shall, where all the requirements for the grant of a licence in respect of a registered trade mark have been fulfilled, register a licensee in accordance with the terms, and conditions (if any), of the licence.

(2) Where a trade mark has not been registered but an application has been made to the Registrar for its registration, any person may, with the consent of the owner of the trade mark, be registered as a licensee in respect of any of the goods or services to which the application relates.

(3) The rules may make provision for the form and manner of effecting an application under this section and any conditions relating to the application.

Cancellation of licensee's
trade mark.

88. The Registrar may cancel the registration of a person as a licensee of a trade mark if

(a) the trade mark is no longer registered;

(b) the application for registration of the trade mark as outlined in section 87 (2) is abandoned, withdrawn or rejected;

(c) the owner or licensee, in accordance with any licence agreement, applies for such cancellation;

(d) he is satisfied that the owner or licensee misrepresented, or failed to disclose, some fact material to the application for registration, or that the circumstances have materially changed since the date of the registration; or

- (e) he is satisfied that the registration should not have been effected having regard to rights vested in the applicant by virtue of a contract in the performance of which the applicant is interested.

(3) Where an application is made to the Registrar under subsection (1), he may, if he considers it necessary, refer the application to the Court for a decision.

(4) Except where the Registrar or the Court directs otherwise, the effect of a rectification of the register is that the error or omission in question is deemed never to have been made.

(5) The Registrar may, on request made by the owner of a registered trade mark or a licensee, or by any person having an interest in or a charge on a registered trade mark the particulars of which have been entered in the register under section 81, enter any change in his name or address, or in any other particulars identifying such person, as recorded in the register.

(b) to cancel or refuse to renew the registration of the trade mark in the event of the owner failing to do so.

(4) A power of amendment given to the Registrar shall not be exercised in a manner as to extend the rights conferred by the registration, except where it appears to the Registrar that compliance with this requirement would involve undue complexity and that any extension would not be substantial and would not adversely affect the rights of any person.

Establishment of Office of Registrar and Powers and Duties of Registrar

Establishment of office of Registrar of Trade Marks, Patents and Copyright.

96. (1) There is established the office of Registrar of Trade Marks, Patents and Copyright and, unless otherwise specified in another enactment, that office shall also be responsible for the administration of patents, copyrights and other intellectual property legislation.

Power to issue opinion.

98. (1) The Registrar may give to a person who proposes to apply for the registration of a trade mark his opinion as to whether the trade mark concerned appears to the Registrar prima facie to be capable of distinguishing goods or services of one undertaking from those of other undertakings within the meaning of section 2 (1) with respect to the definition of a “trade mark”.

(2) A person who wishes to receive the opinion of the Registrar pursuant to subsection (1) shall submit a request to the Registrar in such manner as may be prescribed.

(3) Where the Registrar forms the view that a request made under subsection (1) is not sufficiently clear, or does not contain sufficient information, he may decline to provide any opinion unless the request is made sufficiently clear or contains sufficient information.

(4) An opinion issued by the Registrar under subsection (1)

(a) shall not be construed as binding on the Registrar or be considered as holding the Registrar to any legal liability; and

(b) may be withdrawn or substituted by another opinion if, prior to the filing of the application for registration of a trade mark, facts come to the attention of the Registrar which make a withdrawal or substitution of the opinion reasonable.

Immunity from liability.

99. Neither the Commission or any member of its staff nor the Registrar or any member of his staff shall

(a) be taken to warrant the validity of the registration of a trade mark under this Act;

(b) be liable

(2) Any costs awarded under this section shall, if the Court so orders, be recoverable by execution issued from the Court as if the costs were payable under an order of the Court.

(3) The rules may make provision

(a) empowering the Registrar, in such cases as may be prescribed, to require a party to any proceedings before him to give security for costs in relation to those proceedings; and

(b) with respect to the consequences of failure to give security for costs.

Proceedings Before the Court

109. (1) Where, in proceedings before the Court, the validity of the registration of a trade mark is contested and the Court makes a finding that the trade mark is validly registered, it may give a certificate to that effect.

(2) Where the Court gives a certificate under subsection (1) and in any subsequent proceedings, either before the Court or the Registrar,

(a) the validity of the registration of the trade mark is again questioned on the same or substantially the same grounds, and

(b) the owner of the registered trade mark obtains a final order, judgment or decision in his favour, the owner is entitled to his costs on an indemnity basis, unless the Court or the Registrar, as the case may be, directs otherwise.

- (c) the practice of the Registrar or his office in like cases, if any; and
- (d) such matters relevant to the issues involved in the proceedings and within his knowledge as the Registrar thinks fit.

(3) A statement submitted by the Registrar under subsection (2) shall be deemed to form part of the evidence in the proceedings before the Court.

(4) The Registrar's entitlement to appear and be heard under subsection (1) includes representation of the Registrar by a legal practitioner.

Infringement Proceedings

Infringement of trade mark actionable by owner.

111. (1) An infringement of a trade mark is actionable by the owner of the trade mark.
- (2) In proceedings for an infringement of a trade mark, all relief by way of damages, injunctions, accounts or otherwise is available to the owner of the trade mark as is available in respect of the infringement of any other property right.
- (3) Notwithstanding section 57, no infringement proceeding may be commenced before the date on which the trade mark infringed is in fact entered in the register.

Application for delivery up of infringing goods, etc.

112. (1) The owner of a registered trade mark may apply to the Court for an order for the delivery up to him, or such other person as the Court may direct, of any infringing goods, material or articles which a person has in his possession, custody or control in the course of a trade or business.

(2) An application under subsection (1) shall not be valid if it is made after the end of the period specified in section 113.

(3) Where the Court makes an order under subsection (1), it shall also make an order pursuant to section 114, unless it determines that there are grounds for not making such an order.

(4) A person to whom any infringing goods, material or articles are delivered up pursuant to an order made under subsection (1) shall, if an order is not made under section 114, retain the goods, material or articles pending the making of an order under that section or the decision not to make such an order.

(5) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as affecting any other power that the Court may properly exercise.

Restrictions on order for delivery up.

113. (1) Subject to subsection (2), an application for an order under section 112 may not be made after the end of the period of six years from,

(a) in the case of infringing goods, the date on which the trade mark was applied to the goods or their packaging;

(b) in the case of infringing material, the date on which the trade mark was applied to the material; or

(c) in the case of infringing articles, the date on which they were made.

(2) Where, during the whole or part of the period of six years, the owner of the registered trade mark

(a) is under a disability, or

(b) is prevented by fraud or concealment from discovering the facts entitling him to apply for an order under section 112, he may make an application at any time before the end of the period of six years from the date on which he ceased to be under a disability or, could with reasonable diligence have discovered those facts, as the case may be.

(3) In subsection (2) (a), the reference to “disability” has the same meaning as that provided in section 2 (2) of the Limitation Act.

Cap. 43

Application for further orders.

114. (1) Where infringing goods, material or articles have been delivered up pursuant to an order made under section 112, an application may be made to the Court for

(a) an order that the goods, material or articles

- (i) be forfeited to such person as the Court considers fit;
- (ii) be destroyed in such manner as the Court considers fit;
- (iii) be otherwise dealt with as the Court considers fit; or

(b) a decision that no such order as outlined in paragraph (a) should be made.

(2) For the purpose of making an order pursuant to subsection (1) (a) (iii), the Court may, where considered reasonably practicable, require the person found to have infringed the registered trade mark to cause the offending sign to be erased, removed or obliterated from any infringing goods, material or articles in his possession, custody or control.

(3) Where there is more than one person interested in the goods, material or articles, the Court may make such order as it thinks just in all the circumstances, and it may, in particular, direct that the goods, material or articles be disposed of and the proceeds be divided among them as the Court thinks fit.

(4) In considering what order, if any, should be made under subsection (1), the Court shall

- (a) take into account the need for proportionality between the seriousness of the infringement of the registered trade mark and the remedy sought;
- (b) take into account the interests of third parties; and
- (c) consider whether other remedies available in proceedings in respect of the infringement of the registered trade mark would be adequate to compensate the owner of the registered trade mark and any licensees and to protect their interests.

(5) Where the Court does not make an order under subsection (1) (a), the person who had possession, custody or control of the goods, material or articles before they were delivered up pursuant to an order made under section 112 is entitled to their return.

(6) A reference in this section to a person having an interest in goods, material or articles includes any person in whose favour an order could be made under this section or who is identified as such under the rules.

(7) Where an order is made by the Court under subsection (1) (a), the order shall not take effect until the end of the period within which notice of an appeal may, as provided by the Civil Procedure Rules, 2000 be given or, if before the end of that period notice of appeal is duly given, until the final determination or abandonment of the proceedings on the appeal.

Action against threats of infringement proceedings.

115. (1) Where a person threatens to commence proceedings against another person for infringement of a registered trade mark in respect of any use other than

- (a) the application of the trade mark to goods or their packaging, or
- (b) the supply of services under the trade mark, the person who is aggrieved by the threat may bring proceedings before the Court for relief under this section.

(2) The aggrieved person may apply for any one or more of the following reliefs:

- (a) a declaration that the threat is unjustifiable;
- (b) an injunction against the continuance of the threat; and
- (c) damages in respect of any loss he has sustained as a result of the threat.

(3) The aggrieved person is entitled to the relief claimed under subsection (2), unless the defendant shows that the act in respect of which infringement proceedings were threatened constitute, or if done would constitute, an infringement of the registered trade mark concerned.

(4) If the defendant shows that the act in respect of which infringement proceedings were threatened constitute, or if done would constitute, an infringement of a registered trade mark, the aggrieved person is nevertheless entitled to the relief claimed under subsection (2) if he establishes that the registration of the trade mark is invalid or liable to be revoked in a relevant respect.

(5) The mere notification that a trade mark is registered, or that an application for registration of the trade mark has been made, does not constitute a threat to commence proceedings for infringement for the purposes of this section.

(6) No proceeding for relief under this section shall be commenced, or if commenced may not proceed, if

- (a) the registered owner of the trade mark, or
- (b) a licensee having power to bring proceedings for infringement of the trade mark, commences proceedings for infringement of the trade mark against the aggrieved person within thirty days after the threat was first made to him and pursues those proceedings with diligence.

Infringement proceedings.

116. (1) This section has effect with respect to the rights of a licensee as they relate to the infringement of a registered trade mark, but shall not apply where and to the extent that by virtue of

- (a) section 117 (2), the licensee has a right to commence infringement proceedings in his own name; or
- (b) section 118 (2), a sub-licensee has the right to call on the exclusive licensee to commence infringement proceedings in respect of any matter which affects the sub-licensee's interests.

(2) A licensee is entitled, unless his licence or any licence through which his interest is derived provides otherwise, by notice served on the owner of the registered trade mark, to call on the owner to commence infringement proceedings in respect of any matter which affects the licensee's interests.

(3) Where the owner of the registered trade mark

- (a) refuses to commence infringement proceedings, or
- (b) fails to commence infringement proceedings within one month after being called upon to do so, the licensee may, unless the licence or any licence through which he derives his interest provides otherwise, commence the proceedings in his own name as if he were the owner of the registered trade mark.

(4) Where a licensee commences infringement proceedings by virtue of this section, he may not, without the leave of the Court, proceed with the action unless the owner of the registered trade mark is

- (a) joined as a plaintiff to the proceedings; or
- (b) added as a defendant to the proceedings.

(5) The owner of a registered trade mark who is added as a defendant to any infringement proceedings by virtue of subsection (4) shall not be liable for any costs unless he takes part in the proceedings.

(6) Nothing contained in subsection (4) shall affect the granting of an interlocutory relief by the Court on the application of a licensee alone.

(7) In infringement proceedings brought by the owner of a registered trade mark, any loss suffered or likely to be suffered by a licensee shall be taken into account, and the Court may give such directions as it thinks fit as to the extent to which the owner is to hold the proceeds of any pecuniary remedy on behalf of the licensee.

Rights in relation to exclusive licensee.

117. (1) This section applies in relation to an exclusive licensee if, or to the extent that, by virtue of section 86 (1), the exclusive licensee has the same rights and is entitled to the same remedies in respect of matters occurring after the grant of the licence as if the licence had been an assignment.

(2) The exclusive licensee is entitled, subject to the licence and this section, to commence infringement proceedings in his own name against any person other than the owner of the registered trade mark.

(3) The rights of the exclusive licensee and the remedies to which he is entitled are concurrent with those of the owner of the registered trade mark, and a reference to the owner of a registered trade mark in this Act relating to infringement shall be construed accordingly.

(4) In infringement proceedings commenced by an exclusive licensee by virtue of this section, a defendant may avail himself of any defence which would have been available to him if the proceedings had been commenced by the owner of the registered trade mark.

(5) Where proceedings for infringement of a registered trade mark commenced by the owner of the registered trade mark or an exclusive licensee relate wholly or partly to an infringement in respect of which they have concurrent rights of action, the owner or the exclusive licensee, as the case may be, may not, without the leave of the Court, proceed with the action unless the other is either joined as a plaintiff or added as a defendant.

(6) A person who is added as a defendant pursuant to subsection (5) shall not be liable for any costs unless he takes part in the proceedings.

(7) Nothing contained in subsection (5) shall affect the granting of interlocutory relief by the Court on the application of the owner of the registered trade mark or an exclusive licensee alone.

(8) Where proceedings for infringement of a registered trade mark are commenced which relate wholly or partly to an infringement in respect of which the owner of the registered trade mark and an exclusive licensee have or had concurrent rights of action,

- (a) the Court shall, in assessing damages, take into account
 - (i) the terms of the licence; and
 - (ii) any pecuniary remedy already awarded or available to either of them in respect of the infringement;
- (b) no account of profits shall be directed if an award of damages has been made, or an account of profits has been directed, in favour of the other of them in respect of the infringement; and
- (c) the Court shall, if an account of profits is directed, apportion the profits between them in such manner as the Court considers just.

(9) Subsection (8) applies whether or not the owner of the registered trade mark and the exclusive licensee are both parties to the proceedings, and if they are not both parties, the Court may give such directions as it thinks fit as to the extent to which the party to the proceedings is to hold the proceeds of any pecuniary remedy on behalf of the other.

(10) The owner of a registered trade mark shall notify any exclusive licensee who has a concurrent right of action before applying for an order under section 112, and the Court may, on the application of the exclusive licensee, make such order under that section as it thinks fit, having regard to the terms of the licence.

(11) The application of subsections (5) to (10) is subject to any agreement to the contrary between the owner of the registered trade mark and the exclusive licensee.

Rights of sub-licensee.

118. (1) This section applies in relation to a sub-licensee of an exclusive licensee if, or to the extent that, by virtue of section 117 (2), the exclusive licensee has a right to commence infringement proceedings in his own name.

(2) A sub-licensee is entitled, unless his sub-licence or any licence through which his interest is derived provides otherwise, by notice served on the exclusive licensee, to call on the exclusive licensee to commence infringement proceedings in respect of any matter which affects the sub-licensee's interests.

- (3) Where the exclusive licensee
 - (a) refuses to commence infringement proceedings, or
 - (b) fails to commence infringement proceedings within one month after being called upon to do so, the sub-licensee may, unless the sub-licence or any licence through which he derives his interest provides otherwise, commence the proceedings in his own name as if he were the exclusive licensee.
